Below is an outline of where we can / cannot offer auto liability terms:

1. States we currently cannot / do not offer primary auto liability terms in:
 - a. New York
 - b. Connecticut
 - c. Delaware
 - d. Hawaii

2. States we can offer terms via our admitted carrier Prime Property & Casualty Insurance (PPCI):
 - a. PPCI has full authority to write auto liability (certificate of authority and rates/forms are approved):
 - i. Florida
 - ii. Illinois
 - iii. Kansas
 - iv. Kentucky
 - v. Massachusetts
 - vi. Nevada
 - vii. New Jersey
 - viii. New Mexico
 - ix. North Carolina
 - x. South Carolina

 - b. PPCI has a certificate of authority ONLY; risk must meet the specific state's deregulation guidelines:
 - i. Hawaii (currently does not have deregulation guidelines; cannot write in at this time)

3. Unable to make state filings in Washington
 - a. WA: E&S / PIC

4. Connecticut – cannot offer primary but able to offer excess (E&S/PIC)
 - a. Liability coverage: excess only, no declination needed
 - b. Physical damage only coverage: able to be primary, declination needed (email is fine)

5. All other states written on an E&S basis via Prime Insurance Company (PIC)
